Provided that this paragraph shall not apply where the said asset is charged to tax under the provisions of sub-article (9A) of this article or article 5A(12A).

- (9A) (a) If a company ("the chargeable company") holds shares in a company, which had been acquired from another company, and such acquisition was exempt from tax under subarticle (9), this subarticle shall apply if the chargeable company ceases to be a member of the original group before the lapse of six years from the date of the said acquisition. References in this subarticle to a company ceasing to be a member of a group do not apply to cases where a company ceases to be a member of the original group by being wound up or dissolved or in consequence of another member of the original group being wound up or dissolved:

Provided that where a company ceases to be a member of the original group by being wound up or dissolved, for the purpose of determining whether the chargeable company ceases to be a member of the original group under paragraph (b), such company shall be deemed to have remained in existence.

- (b) The chargeable company shall cease to be a member of the original group, if such company and the company from which it had acquired the shares referred to in paragraph (a) no longer satisfy the provisions of subarticle (9)(i) and (iii) and such determination shall be made by reference to the same individuals referred to in paragraph (iii) of the said subarticle taken into account in determining whether the two companies referred to in this paragraph satisfied the provisions of subarticle (9)(i) and (iii) on the date of the acquisition referred to in paragraph (a):

Provided that where the acquisition referred to in paragraph (a) took place before the 1st January 2010, subarticle (9)(iii) shall be disregarded for the purpose of determining whether a company ceases to be a member of a group:

Provided further that where the chargeable company ceases to be a member of the original group, solely as a result of a change in the direct or indirect individual shareholders of the company from which it had acquired the shares referred to in paragraph (a), the chargeable company shall, for the purpose of this paragraph, not be treated as ceasing to be a member of the original group as a result of such change, so however that for the purpose of determining whether the chargeable company ceases to be a member of the original group it shall be deemed that such change had not taken place and such determination shall be made by reference to the same individuals referred to in sub-article (9)(iii) taken into account in determining whether the chargeable company and the company from which it had acquired the shares satisfied the provisions of sub-article (9)(i) and (iii) on the date of the acquisition referred to in paragraph (a).

- (c) For the purpose of this subarticle the term "original group" shall mean the two companies referred to in paragraph (b), and the individual direct or indirect beneficial owners of the said companies who were taken into account in determining whether the provisions of subarticle (9)(i) and (iii) had been satisfied on the date of the acquisition referred to in paragraph (a):

Provided that where the two companies referred to in this paragraph are directly or indirectly owned as to eighty percent or more by a company whose securities are listed on a stock exchange recognised under the Financial Markets Act, the term "original group" shall mean the two companies referred to above and the company whose securities are listed on the said stock exchange as existing on the date of the acquisition referred to in the paragraph (a):

Cap. 345.

Provided further that where an individual acquires shares in terms of a donation exempt from tax under the provisions of subarticle (2)(e), or a transfer causa mortis, such individual shall be deemed for all the purposes of this subarticle to have held such shares from the date such shares were previously acquired in an acquisition preceding the date of the donation or the transfer causa mortis.

- (d) When the chargeable company ceases to be a member of the group it shall be treated for all the purposes of this article as if, immediately after its acquisition of the shares referred to in paragraph (a), it had transferred and immediately re-acquired the shares at that time.
- (e) The base cost and the date of acquisition of the shares that is taken into account for the purpose of determining any gain or loss shall be the original cost and the date when the shares had previously last been acquired by a company by means of a transfer that did not qualify for an exemption in terms of subarticle (9) or by means of an allotment, which ever is the later.
- (f) (i) For the purpose of ascertaining the gains or profits arising under this subarticle, the acquisition cost of shares acquired before the 25th November, 1992 shall be valued either on the Equity method of share valuation (net asset value) based on the last accounts submitted to the Commissioner by the 18th December, 1992 or on the actual purchase price, whichever is the higher.

- (ii) Shares acquired on or after the 25th November 1992, shall be valued on the cost of acquisition:

Provided that where an amount standing to the credit of any of a company's reserve accounts other than a capital redemption reserve and profits available for distribution, is applied in paying up to any extent any shares allotted by the company, the cost of acquisition of such shares shall be zero.

- (g) Any gain or loss on the transfer referred to in paragraph (d) shall be treated as accruing to the chargeable company immediately before the company ceases to be a member of the group in accordance with paragraph (b).
- (h) For the purpose of paragraph (a) the term "shares in a company" shall mean shares in a company which, on the date of the acquisition referred to in the said paragraph owned, directly or indirectly, any immovable property situated in Malta or any real rights thereon and the said property or any part thereof is still, directly or indirectly, owned by such company on the date it ceases to be a member of the group in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (b). For the purpose of this paragraph a company is treated as indirectly owning immovable property if it holds, directly or indirectly, shares or other interests in any entity or person, which owns immovable property situated in Malta or any real rights thereon where five percent or more of the total value of the said shares or other interests so held is attributable to such immovable property or rights.
- (i) Where in accordance with paragraph (d) the chargeable company is treated as having transferred and immediately reacquired the shares, and a chargeable gain or a capital loss accrues to the chargeable company on the deemed transfer, the chargeable gain or capital loss accruing on the deemed transfer shall be treated as accruing not to the chargeable company but to a related company ("company A") if -
 - (i) at the time of accrual, company A was incorporated in Malta, and
 - (ii) a joint election under this paragraph is made by the chargeable company and company A to treat the chargeable gain or capital loss as accruing to company A, and
 - (iii) such joint election is made by notice given to the Commissioner not later than twelve months after the end of the accounting period of the chargeable company or company A (whichever is the earlier) in which the time of accrual fell, and

- (iv) provisional tax payable in accordance with article 43 of the Income Tax Management Act, is paid by company A at a rate of thirty-five percent of the market value of the shares deemed transferred within the period prescribed in the said article. Cap. 372.

For the purpose of this paragraph company A is related to the chargeable company if both companies form a group for the purposes of subarticle (9) at the time of accrual and "time of accrual" means the time at which, by virtue of paragraph (d), the gain or loss is treated as accruing to the chargeable company.

- (10) (a) A capital loss shall be computed in the same manner as a capital gain.
- (b) Any loss resulting from the transactions falling under sub-article (1) shall not be set off against other income for the year of assessment but shall be carried forward and set off against capital gains in respect of subsequent years of assessment until the full loss is absorbed.
- (c) Bad debts incurred in relation to the said transactions proved to the satisfaction of the Commissioner to have become bad during the year immediately preceding the year of assessment, notwithstanding that such bad debts were due and payable prior to the commencement of the said year, shall be allowed as a deduction against the capital gains in the year in which they were incurred and if there are no gains for that year shall be carried forward and set off against future gains:

Provided that all sums recovered in respect of amounts previously allowed as bad debts shall be treated as gains for the purposes of this article and charged accordingly for the year in which they are recovered.

(11) The gains or profits from any transaction chargeable under paragraph of article 4(1)(a) shall not be chargeable again as capital gains in relation to the same transaction under this article.

- (12) (a) The market value of an asset shall be the price which that asset would fetch if sold on the open market at the time of transfer;
- (b) where the market value of an asset is required to be determined by the Commissioner he may seek the opinion or assistance of any appraiser, architect or other valuer; and
- (c) the person making the appraisal or valuation on behalf of the Commissioner shall for the purpose of carrying out the task so entrusted to him be deemed to be a person serving in the Department of the Commissioner and as having an official duty under this Act.

(13) (a) Where a person transfers an asset which, at the time of acquisition, formed an undivided part of a larger asset (hereinafter in this paragraph referred to as "the whole asset"), the deductions allowable in ascertaining the gain arising from that transfer shall be equivalent to such proportion of the cost of acquisition of the whole asset and of the other deductions that would be due in terms of this article had that person transferred the whole asset, as the consideration for the transfer bears at the time of the transfer to the market value of the whole asset.

(b) (i) A reduction of the share capital of a company shall be deemed to be a transfer of such proportion of the holding of the owner as is equal to the proportion of the reduction of the capital of the company and shall constitute a gain or loss for the purpose of this article in the year in which such reduction is effected:

Provided that where there is a proportionate reduction in the shareholding of all the shareholders, such that the proportion of the shareholding of each shareholder with respect to number, type, class, voting rights and value of shares is equal before and after the reduction is effected, it shall be deemed that no loss or gain has arisen from the transfer.

(ii) Where the market value of shares held by a person ("the transferor") in a company has been reduced as a result of a change in the issued share capital of such company, or a change in voting rights attached to such shares, and such value passes into other shares in or rights over the company held by any other person ("the transferee"), the transferor shall be deemed to have made a transfer of such value so reduced to the transferee. Any gains or profits shall be calculated by taking into account the difference between the market value of the shares held immediately before and after the said change:

Provided that this paragraph shall not apply where the change in the issued share capital or change in voting rights does not produce any change in the individual direct or indirect beneficial owners of the said company and in the proportion in the value of the said company represented by the shares owned beneficially directly or indirectly by each such individual:

Provided further that this paragraph shall not apply where the change in the issued share capital consists of an allotment of shares in a company as a result of an exchange of shares on a restructuring of holdings exempt from tax under the provisions of subarticle (14):

Provided also that this paragraph shall not apply where the said company is a company whose securities are listed on a stock exchange recognised under the Financial Markets Act:

Cap. 345.

Provided also that this paragraph shall not apply where the transfer of value is made by the transferor to a person referred to in subarticle (2)(e)(i):

Provided also that this paragraph shall not apply where the said company is not a "property company" and it can be shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that the said change is effected for bona fide commercial reasons and does not form part of a scheme or arrangements of which the main purpose, or one of the main purposes is avoidance of liability to tax. For the purpose of this paragraph the proviso to the definition of "property company" in article 2(1) shall not apply.

- (c) On any subsequent transfer of the shares referred to in paragraph (b)(i), the cost of acquisition shall be deemed to be the residual part of the cost of acquisition not taken into account on the reduction of capital.

(14) Where a transfer involving the exchange of shares on restructuring of holding upon mergers, demergers, divisions, amalgamations and reorganisation takes place it shall be deemed that no loss or gain has arisen from such transfer and the cost of acquisition upon a subsequent transfer of the original shares or the new shares shall be deemed to be the cost of acquisition of the original shares.

For the purposes of this subarticle -

"original shares" means shares held before and involved in the restructuring, and

"new shares" means, in relation to any original shares, the shares in the company which, as a result of the restructuring, represent the original shares:

Provided that the provisions of this subarticle shall only apply in such manner and in such circumstances as may be prescribed by the Minister:

Provided further that the first proviso hereof shall not apply to divisions and mergers where the draft terms of the said divisions and mergers had been forwarded to the Registrar of Companies for registration in terms of the provisions of the Companies Act on or prior to the 24th November, 2003 and the Registrar had published the relevant statement in the Government Gazette in terms of the said Act on or prior to the 31st December, 2003, provided that a copy of the relative publication is attached to the relative deed.

(15) Where a business or a partnership en nom collectif, as a going concern is incorporated into a limited liability company, which is beneficially owned to the extent of not less than seventy-five per cent by the same person who owned the business or the partnership en nom collectif and there is a transfer of assets it shall be deemed that no loss or gain has arisen from the transfer. Provided that where such assets are subsequently transferred by the company, the base cost and date of acquisition of the assets that would be considered, whether chargeable under this article or under article 4(1)(a), shall be the original cost and the date when it was acquired before the first transfer took place:

Provided further that this article shall apply only where an individual or a partnership en nom collectif transfers to a company a business as a going concern, together with the whole assets of the business, or together with the whole of those assets other than cash, and the business is so transferred wholly in exchange for shares issued by the company to the person transferring the business:

Provided also that for the purpose of computing any chargeable gain accruing on the disposal of the said shares, the cost of acquisition taken into account shall be reduced by any chargeable gain that would have resulted on the transfer of the said business had this subarticle and article 5A not been applied.

(16) For the purposes of this article the value of the usufruct and of the nuda proprietas shall be computed in accordance with the provisions set out in the Duty on Documents and Transfers Act.

Cap. 364.

(17) The Minister may make rules making provision for the purpose of removing the effect of any scheme made for the purpose of avoiding, reducing or postponing any tax due under this article, and in addition the Minister may make rules providing that any transfer of any right referred to in subarticle (1) shall only be valid if it is made by agreement in writing and if payment of such portion of the provisional tax on the capital gains due thereon is made as may be prescribed and if the said agreement is registered in such manner as may be prescribed with such authority as may be prescribed.

Settlement of property.

(18) On the settlement of property on trust, where the trust is established or evidenced by means of a written instrument it shall be deemed, for the purposes of this article that -

- (a) no transfer had taken place where the sole settlor is also the sole beneficiary of such trust;
- (b) such property had been donated directly by the settlor of such trust to the beneficiaries that are persons other than the settlor himself:

Provided that -

- (i) the relevant trust instrument specifically provides that the beneficiaries have an irrevocable vested right to receive all the property settled in trust as specified in the said written instrument; and
- (ii) the relevant trust instrument specifically provides that the beneficiaries are, in relation to each settlor, persons referred to in subarticle (2)(e)(i), whether they are in existence or not at the time of such settlement, or are persons referred to in paragraph (e)(ii) of the said subarticle in each case, such persons being either alone or with the settlor himself; and

- (iii) the beneficiaries include persons who are in existence at the time of the settlement of such property on trust;
- (c) no loss or gain had arisen:

Provided that -

- (i) the relevant trust instrument specifically provides that the beneficiaries of such trust comprise only persons referred to in subarticle (2)(e)(i), whether they are in existence or not at the time of such settlement, in relation to each settlor and may also include the said settlor himself; and
- (ii) the beneficiaries of such trust include at the time of such settlement a person who by reason of an interdiction, incapacitation, or of a physical or mental impairment, or by reason of an irregular or dissolute lifestyle is substantially limited in his ability to administer or manage the property settled in trust, or include at the time of such settlement a person who by reason of a physical or mental impairment is or may become unable to fully provide for his own maintenance, and where the trustee of such trust provides the Commissioner with the necessary evidence proving such interdiction, incapacitation, impairment or inability in the form of medical certificates, court orders or any other relevant documents which the Commissioner may deem necessary; and
- (iii) the beneficiaries of such trust include persons who are in existence at the time of the settlement of such property.

- (19) (a) For the purposes of the provisions of subarticle (1)(a)(iii), gains or profits shall be deemed to arise on the date of the execution of a written instrument (hereinafter in this subarticle referred to as "transfer instrument") whereby there is a transfer of the beneficial interest in a trust which includes taxable trust property. For the purposes of this subarticle "taxable trust property" means property referred to in subarticle (1)(a): beneficial interest.

Transfers of

Provided that this phrase includes only such property, the transfer of which, had it been carried out directly by the relevant beneficiary, would have given rise to gains or profits chargeable to tax in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

- Cap. 16.
- (b) The gain or profit arising from the transfer of the beneficial interest in a trust which has taxable trust property shall be equal to the consideration for the said beneficial interest as declared in the relevant transfer instrument. No deductions shall be allowable against the consideration payable to the transferor.
 - (c) The gain or profit that is determined in accordance with paragraph (b) shall be taxable at the rate specified in article 56(6). No relief, reduction, credit or set-off of any kind shall be made in respect of such tax.
 - (d) In addition to the requirements laid down in Sub-Title VII of Title VI of Part II of Book Second of the Civil Code, any person transferring the beneficial interest in a trust which includes taxable trust property shall, within forty-five days of the date on which the transfer instrument was executed, provide the trustee of such trust with an authenticated copy of the said transfer instrument and shall require the trustee to collect an amount of tax equal to the tax determined in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (c) for onward payment to the Commissioner.
 - (e) The tax so collected by the trustee from the transferor in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (d) shall be a debt due from the trustee to the Commissioner payable by not later than the fourteenth day following the end of the month in which the trustee had collected the tax. Together with this payment, the trustee shall provide the Commissioner with -
 - (i) an account of the gains or profits together with a list of all the assets making up the taxable trust property on the date the transfer instrument was executed on such form as may be prescribed;
 - (ii) an authenticated copy of the relevant transfer instrument; and
 - (iii) a copy of the last financial statements of the trust.
 - (f) The trustee of the relevant trust shall, by not later than fifteen days from the date when he receives acknowledgement from the Commissioner of receipt of the tax and documents referred to in paragraph (e), furnish the parties to the transfer instrument with a certificate evidencing that the tax has been paid and that his obligations under paragraph (e) have been fulfilled.
- Cap. 16.
- (g) Notwithstanding the provisions of Sub-Title VII of Title VI of Part II of Book Second of the Civil Code, any transfer of a beneficial interest in a trust which includes taxable trust property shall not take place and shall not have any effects for the purposes of any law unless the said transfer is made by means of a transfer instrument and unless the transferor and the trustee have fulfilled their obligations in accordance with the provisions of paragraphs (d) and (e).

- (h) Subject to the provisions of article 10A of the Income Tax Management Act, the person transferring the beneficial interest in a trust which includes taxable trust property shall not be obliged to disclose the existence of such gains or profits in any return made pursuant to the provisions of the Income Tax Acts and no further tax shall be payable on such gains or profits. Cap. 372.
- (i) The provisions of this article shall not apply -
- (i) where the Commissioner is satisfied that an irrevocable disclaimer of a beneficial interest was not effected with the sole or main purpose of avoiding, reducing or postponing liability to tax and where he has, at his discretion, ordered in writing that the provisions of this article are not applicable to such a disclaimer;
 - (ii) to any transfer of beneficial interest in a trust where the trustee holds property solely for the purpose of a designated commercial transaction as defined in subarticle (24).
- (20) (a) Where, in the administration of a trust, the trustee transfers property of such trust, gains shall be ascertained in accordance with the provisions of this article and the cost of acquisition shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of paragraphs (b) and (c). Transfers of property in the administration of trusts.
- (b) In the case where such property had been settled in trust in any of the circumstances described in subarticles (18) and (24) where the settlor is also a beneficiary of the trust, the cost of acquisition shall be equal to the cost of acquisition of such property at the time it was originally acquired by the settlor of such trust. Where the property had been settled in the circumstances described in subarticle (18)(a) or subarticle (24)(a), it shall be deemed for the purposes of this article that the settlor has directly transferred such property.
- (c) Subject to the provisions of paragraph (b), the cost of acquisition shall be the cost of acquisition at the time when such property was first acquired as trust property of that trust whether by way of settlement or otherwise.
- (21) (a) For the purposes of this article, property is distributed to beneficiaries of a trust when the trustee transfers property of a trust to any beneficiary of such trust provided that such transfer does not constitute a reversion of property settled on trust as defined in subarticle (22)(a). Distribution of property settled on trust.

(b) Where property which had been settled on trust is distributed to the beneficiaries it shall be deemed that for the purpose of this article -

- (i) no transfer took place in the case where such property had been settled in the circumstances described in subarticle (18)(b) provided that the property was distributed to beneficiaries which were not settlors of the trust;
- (ii) property distributed to persons referred to in subarticle (2)(e)(i) in relation to the settlor, was donated directly by the settlor to such beneficiaries where such property had been settled in the circumstances described in subarticle (18)(c);
- (iii) notwithstanding the relevant deeming provisions of subarticle (18), such property was donated directly by the original settlor of that property to such beneficiaries where such property had been settled in the circumstances described in subarticle (18)(b) and (c) and was subsequently distributed to a beneficiary that was also a settlor of such trust:

Provided that the said beneficiary is a person referred to in subarticle (2)(e)(i) in relation to the said original settlor who had owned such property prior to its settlement in trust.

(c) The provisions of subarticle (20) shall apply mutatis mutandis in the circumstances of a distribution of property as they apply to the transfer of property in the administration of a property of a trust.

Reversion of property to settlor.

(22) (a) For the purpose of this article, property settled on trust reverts where there is a transfer to a person who is the settlor of a trust (even where such person is a beneficiary of that same trust) of property which had, immediately before its settlement into such trust, been owned by that same settlor.

(b) Where property which had been settled in trust in the circumstances described in subarticle (18) reverts back to the settlor, notwithstanding the relevant deeming provisions of subarticle (18), it shall be deemed for the purposes of this article that such property had never been settled into such trust.

Cap. 331.

(c) Where property had been settled into trust in circumstances other than those described in paragraph (b), and where such property reverts back to the settlor for the reasons referred to in article 16 of the Trusts and Trustees Act, it shall be deemed for the purpose of this article that no loss or gain had arisen in the event of such reversion.

(d) The provisions of subarticle (20) shall apply mutatis mutandis in the circumstances of a reversion of property settled on trust as they apply to the transfer of property in the administration of a property of a trust.

(23) In the case of a subsequent transfer of property by a settlor or beneficiary, as the case may be -

Subsequent transfers by settlors or beneficiaries.

- (a) where such property had reverted to such settlor; or
- (b) where such property was distributed to the beneficiaries, and where -
 - (i) such distribution was deemed, in accordance with the provisions of this article, to be a direct donation from the settlor of the trust to the said beneficiaries of such trust; and
 - (ii) such property is transferred by such beneficiaries within the period of time referred to in subarticle (2)(f) from the date of such deemed donation;

capital gains shall be ascertained in accordance with the provisions of this article by taking into account the cost of acquisition of such property at the time it was originally acquired by the settlor of the trust before the relevant settlement.

(24) (a) No transfer of the property shall be deemed to have taken place -

Transfers involving changes in trustees and particular commercial reasons.

- (i) on the settlement of property consisting of shares in one company when the settlor who owned the said shares prior to the settlement thereof on trust is also the sole beneficiary of the trust;
- (ii) on the settlement of property consisting of shares in one company when the settlement is made by more than one settlor, and the said settlors are the only beneficiaries of the trust, and the beneficiaries are entitled to benefit in accordance with the terms of the trust in the same proportion as they would have done as settlors;
- (iii) on the reversion to the settlors of the shares referred to in subparagraphs (i) and (ii) in the same proportion which the settlors would have been entitled to when the property was owned by them as settlors immediately prior to the settlement;
- (iv) upon the transfer of shares in one company purchased by a trustee with money settled in trust by a settlor for the purpose of acquiring, purchasing or subscribing to such shares, when the said transfer is made to the sole beneficiary of the trust who is also the original settlor; and in each case, the trustee is a person authorised or not required to be so authorised to act as a trustee in terms of articles 43 and 43A of the Trusts and Trustees Act.

Cap. 331.

- (b) No transfer of the property of a trust shall be deemed to have taken place where the trustee of such trust transfers all the property of such trust, which transfer involves only a change in the trustee of such trust and there is no change in the beneficiaries or in the beneficial interest.
- (c) No loss or gain shall be deemed to have arisen where property is settled into a trust and where the trustee holds such property for the purpose of designated commercial transactions or where such property so settled reverts to the settlor. Where such property is transferred by the trustee of such trust to its beneficiaries (or to any person through a judicial sale or otherwise), the cost of acquisition shall be the cost at which the settlor of such trust had acquired the said property. In such a case, the provisions of subarticle (10) can be availed of by the settlor in the same manner as if the transfer of the property by the trustee had been made directly by the settlor himself. Where such property is not so transferred but reverts to the settlor, or where the settlor waives his right to a reversion of the property, and there is a subsequent transfer of such property, the cost of acquisition shall be the cost at which the settlor had acquired the said property prior to its settlement into the said trust. Subject to the approval of the Commissioner, the provisions of this paragraph shall also be applicable where a property is settled into a trust for the purpose of a commercial transaction not being a designated commercial transaction. For the purposes of this paragraph, "designated commercial transactions" means the custody of investment instruments, the establishment or holding of real or personal security interests (including hypothecs, privileges, pledges and guarantees), and any other commercial transaction which may be prescribed, while "commercial transaction" shall have the meaning assigned to it in article 2 of the Trusts and Trustees Act.

Transfers of shares involving fiduciary relationships.
Cap. 331.

- (25) (a) Where a person that is authorised or not required to be so authorised to act as a trustee in terms of articles 43 and 43A of the Trusts and Trustees Act holds in its own name shares in a company on behalf of the beneficial owner of such shares, and where such person transfers or otherwise disposes of the beneficial ownership of such shares to a third party, such a transaction shall be deemed to constitute a transfer of shares for the purposes of this article.

- (b) Where a change in the registered holder of shares in a company does not involve a change in the beneficial ownership thereof, such change shall not be deemed to constitute a transfer of shares for the purposes of this article provided that the registered holder of such shares remains a person authorised or not required to be so authorised to act as a trustee in terms of articles 43 and 43A of the Trusts and Trustees Act. Cap. 331.
- (c) For the purposes of this subarticle "beneficial owner" means a person who is the real owner of, or who is otherwise beneficially entitled to, the shares which are subscribed or held on his behalf and in his interest by a person authorised or not required to be so authorised to act as a trustee in terms of articles 43 and 43A of the Trusts and Trustees Act and "beneficial ownership" shall be construed accordingly. Cap. 331.
- (d) When the shares referred to in this subarticle are transferred either by the trustee to a person other than the settlor or by the settlor to a third party after the shares have reverted to the settlor, the acquisition cost shall be deemed to be the cost of acquisition of the shares by the settlor when the shares were originally purchased or subscribed by the settlor prior to the shares being settled into the trust.
- (26) The Minister may make regulations determining the method of calculation of capital gains in relation to transfers involving trusts and to prescribe any matter that may be prescribed in relation to such transfers. Power to make rules.

(b) The chargeable company shall cease to be a member of the original group, if such company and the company from which it had acquired the property referred to in paragraph (a) no longer satisfy the provisions of article 5(9)(i) and (iii) and such determination shall be made by reference to the same individuals referred to in paragraph (iii) of the said article taken into account in determining whether the two companies referred to in this paragraph satisfied the provisions of article 5(9)(i) and (iii) on the date of the acquisition referred to in paragraph (a):

- (c) For the purpose of this subarticle the term "original group" shall mean the two companies referred to in paragraph (b), and the individual direct or indirect beneficial owners of the said companies who were taken into account in determining whether the provisions of article 5(9)(i) and (iii) had been satisfied on the date of the acquisition referred to in paragraph (a):

separation, donation or the transfer causa mortis.

- (d) When the chargeable company ceases to be a member of the group it shall be treated for all the purposes of this article as if, immediately after its acquisition of the property referred to in paragraph (a), it had transferred and immediately re-acquired the property at that time and the transfer value to be taken into account is the value at which the chargeable company had acquired the said property from the group company in an acquisition to which subarticle (4)(f) applies.
- (e) The tax on a transfer to which this subarticle applies shall be charged at the rate of eight percent (8%) of the transfer value as established in paragraph (d); provided that the said rate shall be ten percent (10%) if the acquisition of property referred to in paragraph (c) occurred before the 1st January, 2004..
- (f) Tax chargeable under this subarticle shall be due by the chargeable company and shall be remitted to the Commissioner within fifteen working days from the date on which such company ceases to be a member of the group as provided in paragraph (b).
- (g) Where in accordance with paragraph (d) the chargeable company is treated as having transferred and immediately reacquired the property, the tax chargeable on the deemed transfer in accordance with paragraph (f) shall be treated as being due not by the chargeable company but by a related company ("company A") if:
 - (i) company A is incorporated in Malta;
 - (ii) a joint election under this paragraph is made by the chargeable company and company A to treat the tax chargeable on the deemed transfer as being due by company A;

(1) For the purpose of ascertaining the total income of any person there shall be deducted all outgoings and expenses incurred by such person during the year preceding the year of assessment to the extent to which such outgoings and expenses were wholly and exclusively incurred in the production of the income, including -

- (a) sums payable by such person by way of interest upon any money borrowed by him, where the Commissioner is satisfied that the interest was payable on capital employed in acquiring the income;
- (b) rent paid by any tenant of land or buildings occupied by him for the purpose of acquiring the income;
- (c) any sum expended for repairs of premises, plant or machinery employed in acquiring the income, or for the renewal, repair or alteration of any implement, utensil or article so employed;
- (d) bad debts incurred in any trade, business, profession or vocation, proved to the satisfaction of the Commissioner to have become bad during the year immediately preceding the year of assessment notwithstanding that such bad debts were due and payable prior to the commencement of the said year:
 Provided that all sums recovered during the said year on account of amounts previously written off or allowed in respect of bad debts shall for the purposes of this Act be treated as receipts of the trade, business, profession or vocation for that year;
- (e) any sum contributed by an employer to a pension, saving, provident or any other society or fund which may be approved by the Commissioner as may be prescribed;
- (f) a deduction in respect of the wear and tear of any plant and machinery, and any premises being an industrial building or structure, arising out of the use or employment of such property in the production of the income; and where such property is employed on such terms that the burden of wear and tear thereof falls upon the person making use of the property in the production of the income, but such property does not belong to him, he shall be entitled to any deduction to which he would have been entitled had the property belonged to him:

Provided that -

- (i) the amount to be deducted in respect of premises being an industrial building or structure shall not exceed two per cent of the cost thereof, not including the cost of the land on which the

- building or structure is erected;
- (ii) where the total deductions allowable under this paragraph and under paragraph (j) cannot be given effect to in full in any year because there are no profits or gains chargeable for that year from the source of income in respect of which they are allowable or because the profits or gains chargeable from that source are less than the deductions, the deductions or such part of the deductions to which effect has not been given, shall be added to the deduction for wear and tear in respect of that source for the following year and deemed to be part of that deduction, or if there is no such deduction in respect of that source for that year, be deemed to be the deduction for that year and so on for subsequent years;
 - (iii) the aggregate of the deductions made under this paragraph and under paragraph (j), added to the wear and tear, if any, or to such part thereof as may be appropriate, which occurred prior to the commencement of this Act, shall not exceed the original cost, or such part of it as may be appropriate, of such plant, machinery or premises, having regard to the extent to which they were wholly and exclusively used in the production of the income, and -
 - (a) the wear and tear which occurred prior to the commencement of this Act shall be computed at the prescribed rates, and
 - (b) the cost of the land on which the building or structure is erected shall in all cases be excluded from the original cost of the premises;
 - (g) the amount of a loss incurred by any person, solely or in partnership, in any trade, business, profession or vocation during the year preceding the year of assessment which, if it had been a profit, would have been assessable under this Act; and in computing such loss account shall be taken of all deductions which would have been allowable under the other paragraphs of this sub-article, except paragraphs (f) and (j), if it had been a profit; and where the amount of a loss incurred and computed as aforesaid is such that it cannot be set off against capital gains or income from other sources for the year preceding the year of assessment, it shall, to the extent to which it cannot be wholly set off against capital gains or income for the said year, be carried forward and set off against what would otherwise have been the total income for subsequent years in succession:

Provided that nothing in this paragraph shall be construed as permitting the set off of any loss incurred outside Malta which, if it had been a profit and had been retained outside Malta, would not have been chargeable to tax under this Act:

Provided further that a loss as aforesaid shall not be deducted against income which stands to be allocated to the final tax account and any loss resulting from activities or sources the profit derived from which would have been allocated to the final tax account shall not be a loss to which this paragraph applies:

Provided also that, subject to the "group relief provisions", no person shall, notwithstanding anything contained in any other Act, be entitled to a deduction under this paragraph in respect of any loss incurred by another person:

Provided also that:

24. (1) Where, under the provisions of article 14(1)(f) and (j), any deduction has been allowed in any year of assessment in ascertaining the total income of any person and any of the following events occurs in the year immediately preceding the year of assessment in the case of any property in respect of which any deduction has been allowed as aforesaid, that is to say, either the property or any part thereof - statement"), in respect of the property in question showing the following items, that is to say:

- (i) the amount of the capital expenditure on the provision thereof; and
- (ii) the total depreciation which has occurred by reason of wear and tear since the date of the acquisition of such property, taking into account the aggregate amount of all deductions previously allowed under the provisions of article 14(1)(f) and (j) and of any deductions or charges previously allowed or made under sub-article (2)(a) or (b);
- (iii) the amount of all sale, insurance, salvage or compensation monies in respect thereof and, where the property has been transferred by exchange, the value thereof, or, if put out of use, the disposal value thereof.

(2) In ascertaining the total income of a person who is required under sub-article (1) to render a balancing statement to the Commissioner, a deduction (hereinafter referred to as a "balancing allowance") shall be allowed or, as the case may be, an addition (hereinafter referred to as a "balancing charge") shall be made and such balancing allowance or balancing charge shall be calculated by reference to the balancing statement or statements rendered by the person in respect of the year immediately preceding the year of assessment, as follows:

- (a) the amount of a balancing allowance shall be the amount by which the amount of item (i) of the balancing statement exceeds the sum of the amounts of item (ii) and item (iii) of that statement; or
- (b) the amount of the balancing charge shall be the amount by which the sum of the amounts of item (ii) and item (iii) of the balancing statement exceeds the amount of item (i) of that statement:

- (i) the balancing charge shall in no case exceed the aggregate amount of any deductions previously allowed under the provisions of article 14(1)(f) and (j) and included in item (ii) of the balancing statement;

(3) Where property, in the case of which any of the events mentioned in sub-article (1) has occurred, is replaced by the owner thereof and a balancing charge falls to be made on him by reason of that event or, but for the provisions of this sub-article, would have fallen to be made on him by reason thereof, then, if by notice in writing to the Commissioner he so elects, the following provisions shall have effect, that is to say:

- (a) if the amount of the balancing charge which would have been made is greater than the capital expenditure on providing the new property -
 - (i) the balancing charge shall be an amount equal to the difference; and
 - (ii) no balancing allowance under sub-article (2) and no deduction under article 14(1)(f) and (j) shall be made or allowed in respect of such new property or the capital expenditure on the provision thereof; and

- (b) if the capital expenditure on providing the new property is equal to, or greater than the amount of the balancing charge that would have been made -
 - (i) the balancing charge shall not be made; and
 - (ii) the amount of any deductions in respect of the said expenditure under the provisions of article 14(1)(f) and (j) shall be calculated as if the capital expenditure on providing such new property had been reduced by the amount of the balancing charge which would have been made; and
 - (iii) in considering whether any, and, if so, what balancing allowance or balancing charge falls to be made in respect of the capital expenditure on providing such new property, the aggregate amount of all deductions, previously allowed in respect of such property under the provisions of this article and under article 14(1)(f) and (j), shall be deemed to have been increased by an amount equal to the amount of the balancing charge that would have been made:

Provided that where the new property is only partly employed in the production of the income, only so much of the capital expenditure incurred in providing the property shall be taken into account for the purposes of this sub-article as may be appropriate having regard to the extent to which such property is wholly and exclusively employed in the production of the income.

(4) Where any person has delivered a balancing statement, the Commissioner may -

Cap. 372.

(7) For the purpose of this article -

- (a) the expression "property" means plant and machinery, and premises being an industrial building or structure owned and employed by any person in the production of his income;

- (c) the price in respect of any property sold or the value of any property otherwise transferred under an onerous title shall be the amount which, in the opinion of the Commissioner, such property would have fetched if sold or otherwise transferred under an onerous title on the open market at the time it was sold or transferred;
- (d) the disposal value in respect of any property which is put out of use shall be the amount which, in the opinion of the Commissioner, such property would have fetched if sold or otherwise transferred under an onerous title in the open market at the time it was put out of use.

(8) Where in any year of assessment full effect cannot be given to any balancing allowance owing to there being no profits or gains chargeable for that year from the source of income in respect of which such allowance is claimed or owing to the profits or gains chargeable from that source being less than the allowances, then so long as the source of income in respect of which the allowance falls to be made continues to exist and to belong to the person entitled to the said allowance, the balance of such allowance shall be added to,

and be deemed to from part of, the allowance, if any, for the next succeeding year of assessment, and if no such allowance falls to be made for that year, shall be deemed to constitute the allowance for that year, and so on for subsequent years of assessment.

Malta business, where such income cannot be readily ascertained, shall be computed by taking a proportion of the person's worldwide investment income in the year preceding the year of assessment equal to the proportion which the investments as aforesaid bore to the person's worldwide investments.

Provided that such election shall be irrevocable and shall be notified in writing to the Commissioner by not later than the 31st day of March, 1999:

Provided further that where such a person issues new contracts of long term insurance on or after the 1st January, 1999, the election shall cease to have effect in respect of the year of assessment following the year in which the first new contract is issued and in respect of subsequent years of assessment.

- (b) Any tax payable under sub-article (2) shall, in the case of a linked long term contract of insurance, be computed by reference to the profit attributable to the unlinked portion of a contract of insurance and any references to "a determinable amount" and "premiums" shall be construed as references to the amount due and premiums paid on the unlinked portion of a contract of insurance.
- (5) (a) Subject to the provisions of paragraph (b), the provisions contained in Part IV shall apply to persons referred to in subarticle (1) provided that in determining what deductions are allowable under this article there shall be excluded any deductions allowed under any other Part of this Act.

43. (1) Where the Commissioner is of the opinion that any company (other than a company incorporated or registered outside Malta and not resident therein) has not distributed as dividends its profits or some part of its profits and that the effect of such non-distribution is the avoidance or reduction of tax otherwise payable by the shareholders, he may order by notice in writing that such undistributed profits or part thereof shall be deemed, for the purposes of this Act, to have been distributed by way of dividend by the company in such amount, and on such date or dates, as to him appears to be reasonable, and the shareholders concerned shall be assessed thereon accordingly:

(2) Where any person who has been assessed to tax, or has had his assessment revised, in accordance with the provisions of sub-article (1) fails to pay on due date the tax, or any part of the tax, attributable to his share of any undistributed profits which are treated as distributed, such tax or the part thereof shall thereupon become a debt due to Government from the company by reason of whose failure to distribute the profits the directions of the Commissioner under sub-article (1) were given, and shall be recoverable as such.

(3) Where any undistributed profits taxable by virtue of sub-article (1) are subsequently distributed, they shall not be treated as taxable income in the hands of the recipients thereof.

- Cap. 372. (5) Nothing contained in this article shall prevent the decision of the Commissioner in the exercise of the power conferred upon him by sub-article (1) from being questioned in an appeal in accordance with the provisions of articles 35 and 37 of the Income Tax Management Act.

(2) Where in respect of any year of assessment the rate of tax chargeable under article 56 upon the chargeable income of a company is increased and any company constituted under the law in force in Malta or resident in Malta has, before the date of the commencement of the enactment imposing the increased rate of tax, deducted from a dividend paid to a shareholder (hereinafter in this sub-article referred to as "the original dividend") tax at a rate lower than that paid or payable by the company for that year in respect of the income out of which such dividend is paid, the company shall be entitled -

(a) on the occasion of the next payment of dividend by the company (hereinafter in this sub-article referred to as "the next dividend"), to make up from that dividend the amount of such under-deduction in addition to making any other deduction which the company is entitled to make from that dividend, irrespective of whether or not the person who is entitled to the next dividend, is the person who was entitled to the original

77. (1) The provisions of this article shall have effect where, under arrangements having effect under article 76, tax payable in respect of any income in the territory with the Government of which the arrangements are made is to be allowed as a credit against tax payable in respect of that income in Malta; and in this article the expression "foreign tax" means any tax payable in that territory which under the arrangements is to be so allowed and the expression "income tax" means tax charged on the chargeable income at the rates laid down in Part VII of this Act.

(2) The amount of the income tax chargeable in respect of the income shall be reduced by the amount of the credit:

Provided that credit shall not be allowed against income tax for any year of assessment unless the person entitled to the income is resident in Malta for the year immediately preceding the year of assessment.

(3) The credit shall not exceed the amount which would be produced by computing the amount of the income in accordance with the provisions of this Act and then charging it to income tax at a rate ascertained by dividing the income tax chargeable (before allowance or credit under any arrangements having effect under article 76) on the total income of the person entitled to the income by the amount of his total income.

(4) Without prejudice to the provisions of the preceding sub-article, the total credit to be allowed to a person for any year of assessment for foreign tax under all arrangements having effect under article 76 shall not exceed the total income tax payable by him for that year of assessment, less any tax payable by him under the provisions of articles 40, 69 and 73.

(5) In computing the amount of the income -

- (a) no deduction shall be allowed in respect of foreign tax (whether in respect of the same or any other income);
- (b) where the income tax chargeable depends on the amount received in Malta the said amount shall be increased by the appropriate amount of the foreign tax in respect of the income;
- (c) where the income includes a dividend and under the arrangements foreign tax not chargeable directly or by deduction in respect of the dividend is to be taken into account in considering whether any, and if so what, credit is to be given against income tax in respect of the dividend the amount of the income shall be increased by the amount of the foreign tax not so chargeable which falls to be taken into account in computing the amount of the credit.

(6) Paragraphs (a) and (b) of the preceding sub-article (but not the remainder thereof) shall apply to the computation of the total income for the purpose of determining the rate mentioned in sub-article (3), and shall apply thereto in relation to all income in the case of which credit falls to be given for foreign tax under arrangements for the time being in force under article 76.

(7) Where -

- (a) the arrangements provide, in relation to dividends of some classes, but not in relation to dividends of other classes, that foreign tax not chargeable directly or by deduction in respect of dividends is to be taken into account in considering whether any, and if so what, credit is to be given against income tax in respect of the dividends, and
- (b) a dividend is paid which is not of a class in relation to which the arrangements so provide, then, if the dividend is paid to a company which controls, directly or indirectly, not less than one-half of the voting power in the company paying the dividend, credit shall be allowed as if the dividend were a dividend of a class in relation to which the arrangements so provide.

(8) Credit shall not be allowed under the arrangements against income tax chargeable in respect of the income of any person for any year of assessment if he elects that credit shall not be allowed in the case of his income for that year.

(9) Any claim for an allowance by way of credit shall be made not later than two years after the end of the year of assessment to which the claim refers, and in the event of any dispute as to the amount allowable the claim shall be subject to objection and appeal in like manner as an assessment.

(10) Where the amount of any credit given under the arrangements is rendered excessive or insufficient by reason of any adjustment of the amount of any tax payable either in Malta or elsewhere, nothing in this Act limiting the time for the making of returns, assessment or claims for relief shall apply to any return, assessment or claim to which the adjustment gives rise, being a return, assessment or claim made not later than two years from the time when all such assessments, adjustments and other determination have been made, whether in Malta or elsewhere, as are material in determining whether any, and if so what, credit falls to be given.

78. (1) Where the tax paid or payable by a company is affected by double taxation relief the amount to be set off under article 60 or to be repaid under article 48 of the Income Tax Management Act, in respect of the tax deductible from any dividend paid by the company, shall be reduced as follows:

- (a) if no tax is chargeable on the recipient in respect of the dividend, the reduction shall be an amount equal to tax on the gross dividend at the rate of double taxation relief applicable thereto;
- (b) if the rate of tax chargeable on the recipient in respect of the dividend is less than the rate of double taxation relief applicable to the dividend, the reduction shall be an amount equal to tax on the gross dividend at the difference between those two rates.

(2) For the purpose of this article -

- (a) if the income of the person chargeable includes one dividend such as is mentioned in the preceding sub-article, that dividend shall be deemed to be the highest part of his total income;
- (b) if his income includes more than one such dividend a dividend shall be deemed to be a higher part of his total income than another dividend if the net Malta rate applicable to the former dividend is lower than that applicable to the latter dividend;
- (c) where tax is chargeable at different rates in respect of different parts of any such dividend, or where tax is chargeable in respect of some part of any such dividend and is not chargeable in respect of some other part thereof, each part shall be deemed to be a separate dividend;
- (d) the expression "double taxation relief" has the same meaning as in article 59 and the expression "the rate of double taxation relief" means the rate which represents the excess of the rate of tax deductible from the dividend over the net Malta rate applicable thereto.

79. In this Act the phrase "unilateral relief" means the relief given pursuant to the provisions of articles 80 to 88, and in those articles the phrase "income tax" shall have the meaning attributed to it in article 77(1).

Certain powers of the Commissioner.

(2) The Commissioner may impose any condition that he may consider appropriate for any remission under paragraph (1), including the requirement that the person concerned shall not make another default or omission within such period as the Commissioner may establish or that the said person shall make a payment of tax in such amount and within such time as the Commissioner may determine.

(3) Should any condition imposed by the Commissioner in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (2) be infringed by the person concerned, any reduction of additional tax granted by the Commissioner in addition to the reductions contemplated by the other provisions of this Schedule shall be forfeited.

(4) If forfeiture is due under the provisions of paragraph (3), any additional reduction made under the provisions of this item, but not under the provisions of the other items, shall be deemed to have been a suspension of liability to the said additional tax, and not the cancellation of the relevant additional tax.

(5) The Commissioner shall communicate in writing to the person concerned any condition imposed under paragraph (2), the consequences of an infringement of any such condition in accordance with paragraph (3) and, when such is the case, the fact that forfeiture has been incurred.

(6) The use of the Commissioner's discretion under this item shall not be questioned in any appeal.
